Disciple Notes

Week of November 2, 2026

There are certain benchmarks in a baby's life. First smile. First word. (That's the one parents battle over the most. Will it be "Mama" or "Dada"? I mean, it's a lifetime of bragging rights. My son's first word was "ball". Holly and I both lost on that one.) First crawl. First step. Some of those firsts that you looked so forward to sometimes become regrets when you can't keep them in one place any longer and you pray for just a minute or two of peace and quiet. But, we know they need to grow up.

And, then there's the first bite of solid food. I'm not sure if baby food counts. That stuff is so gross. But, babies eat it because they don't know any better. I'm not really sure you can call it eating since they spit half of it on the person who's feeding them. But, when they get the first bite of real food, that all changes. And, then there's the first taste of the really good stuff like ice cream or, of course, peanut M&Ms. After that, baby food is out the window and we're on to the real thing. If we're going to grow into strong kids and eventually adults, we have to move past baby food in order to get the nutrition we need to be healthy.

The Bible says we can be like babies when it comes to the spiritual food we feed ourselves. If we aren't careful, we can stay stuck on spiritual baby food and think that's all there is. But, there's so much more if we want to grow and mature in our faith.

That's what we're going to talk about this week as we move into Hebrews 5:11 - 6:12. I hope you'll read this challenging passage this week. There is a lot of "meat" in those verses for us to chew on. We look forward to worshiping with you on Sunday and bring a friend. Have a great week!

In Christ,
David
